

8 HOUR SUSPENSE EMBITTERS R. R. MEN

"Politicians Goldbricked Us," Declares Old Lackawanna Engineer.

ADAMSON LAW ATTACKED

Grand Officers of Brotherhood
Admit They Don't Know
What It Means.

Apprehension that under the Adamson law the railroads are to do away with existing schedules and eliminate the mileage basis of pay continues to spread among railroad men. This apprehension has been accentuated rather than relieved by a circular which has just been issued from the grand officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in England as a result of the inquiries which have been pouring in there.

The circular is dated October 1 and is headed "Circular to all local chapters. It reads:

"We are receiving a number of letters requesting definite information regarding the application of the Adamson law. We are not in a position to give any definite information at this time, for we do not know what the law means. We are, however, from time to time, furnishing the general chairman with such information as is obtainable in the matter."

The chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers here, W. J. Adams, yesterday, has led to a movement in some of the locals to have the Adamson law amended in order that it may be no doubt as to the point regarding the mileage basis.

Amendment Is Discussed.

The legislative committee of the Brotherhood in one of the Eastern States has already put the advisability of this law to a vote, contending that if, as the law now stands, the railroads are to suffer a cut in their wages and be made to work a full eight hours the law might as well not have been passed.

The Locomotive Engineers and Conductors Mutual Protective Association, which has offices in Detroit, recently asked for an opinion on the Adamson law from Milton E. Brown, an attorney for the labor union in Indiana. In his answer, Mr. Brown disagrees entirely with the statement given out at Detroit headquarters here by W. J. Adams. The other statement is that the railroads could not afford to mileage basis for wages. Brown says: "No matter how many miles a man runs, Mr. Adams, he will get less than the present part of the day's wage."

Men Still Work on Wage Basis.

The question asked: "The Adamson law does not put the railway men upon a mileage basis. It still continues to work for a wage. It does not alter the question of the number of hours he worked without being necessary, but with the wage he would work eight hours to get the wage, and work four hours and get half the wage. This is still to be the law, which provides that there will be no reduction in income from the present standard day's wage."

This action of the committee is being regarded here and wide among the members of the Brotherhood and has caused considerable discussion.

"The politicians gold bricked us," said Stone, "and now, if we don't know it, we are left in a worse position. The law will have to be amended if there is to be trouble."

The engineers who said this is one of the oldest men in the Lackawanna area.

He asked that his name be not used as he would be expelled from the union if it was. In their effort to throw the entire vote of the railroad brotherhood to Wilson unless they come forth, it was said, to threaten every member with expulsion who was found doing any work for the Republicans.

Several sound opinions are now being expressed of $100 a week in full-time work in the Lackawanna Railroad shops, according to reports from the State at Republican National headquarters here.

SEABURY IN SCHENECTADY.

Judge says Whitman Manipulated

Workmen's Compensation Law.

Schenectady, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Samuel Seabury, Democratic candidate for Governor, spoke in a packed house here tonight. Judge Seabury was accompanied by Charles Field Malone, William Hart and William F. McGowan, Democratic candidates for United States Senators.

The judge charged the Whitman administration with extravagance and incompetence and criticized its manipulation of the Workmen's Compensation Law. He said the Whitman administration placed the State prison system in the hands of partisan politics and promised if elected Governor to repeal the compensation act.

GRANDPA HUGHES SUPPLANTS NOMINEE

He Arranges for His Son's
Family to Stay at Hotel With Him.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Oct. 21.—Charles E. Hughes changed from a candidate into a granddaddy again to-day. Although the children of Charles E. Hughes, Jr., live in Glen Ridge, the adjoining town, it was arranged today that they should be brought over here and stay with their grandfather at the Hotel Montclair until he goes campaigning again.

One reason why Mr. Hughes picked out the Hotel Montclair here for a resting place was to be near the family of his son, and when it was arranged today that the whole family should stay at the hotel with him Mr. Hughes was especially pleased. He would the entire afternoon with his grandchildren, after taking an automobile ride in the morning with Mrs. Hughes. Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will attend the Boston Church together.

The only politician to reach Mr. Hughes today was Mayor Robert E. Torrance of Kearny, N. J., who honored the candidate to address a Republican rally there on Monday. But Mr. Hughes declined.

The Republican candidate was asked today to comment on the decision of Judge Andrews of the Circuit Court of the United States was legally at war with Mexico. Mr. Hughes said that he had been apprised of this decision some time ago and had been emphasizing it for the last three weeks in his speeches. He refused to make any statement on the matter for the reason, it was explained, that he intended to use this decision in his coming speeches.

Gen. Gotha, whom the President has just appointed on the eight-hour day commission, will not be a fellow guest here with Mr. Hughes. He had come on board here for the next few days, but sent word today that he would have to postpone his visit.

MISS RODMAN WINS HUBBY FOR WILSON

Also Introduces Two German
Women, Who Will Work for Democratic Nominee.

If the German vote goes to Hughes it won't be the fault of Miss Rodman, a teacher in Madison High School and an ardent Wilsonite. Miss Rodman burst into the Democratic women's lunch room at the Park Avenue Hotel yesterday with two women, she announced, were Rodman & Co. in her campaign to produce Theodore Wilson supporters.

The women, Miss Otto Kemper and Mrs. Camille Reinhold, bowed and said they regretted they hadn't each a vote for Wilson.

The luncheon, organized by Mrs. Harry Holt Day, was for presidents of women's clubs. One hundred and fifty invitations were sent out. Seventy-five responded and said they were for Wilson. Thirty said they were for Hughes.

Mrs. Emma K. Edwards of the New York city "Red" stated on her invitation to send her delegation covered with Hughes stamps.

Mrs. J. Burton Harrison urged the women to get out and make the "Capital of Woodrow Wilson" rampant in the State. Miss Rodman, who does not use her husband's name, made a plea for the anti-suffrage women, today's influence.

"Make your husband vote for Wilson," she said. "My husband was a Hughes man, but I've convinced him and he's going to vote for my candidate."

Mrs. Day read telegrams from various Western women. Dr. Esther Holt Lovjoy of Oregon, Miss Mary E. Bullock of St. Louis, club presidents of Denver and others, breathing sympathy to Wilson and saying that the women's Hughes campaign trail had "destroyed Hughes' last chance."

She also read a telegram from President Wilson, sending the function guests his "warmest greetings."

Nearly all the women put down their names for the trip to Shadow Lawn next Saturday. All the Democratic women's organizations, as well as the men, are working hard to make the delegation a big one.

The women's bureau of the Democratic National Committee has arranged in automobile campaign with the slogan "Get Wilson record into the hands of the voters. Common sense will do the rest." Four city tourneys will begin to tour the city tomorrow and the number is to be increased. Each election district has a women captain.

Frederick Mark Gets 9 Years.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 21.—Frederick Mark, alias Fred Lemore, who obtained thousands from the Red Hook National Bank on forged checks, was sentenced today to nine years in Sing Sing. Mark was recently freed from the Massachusetts State prison. Relatives offered to restore $2,000 of the stolen funds. Mark said when he was sentenced that eventually he would make good for every cent he stole.

TO CAMPAIGN IN CITY.

Hughes Will Make Whirlwind Trip

Tuesday Evening.

Charles E. Hughes will campaign in The Bronx, Harlem and Queens next Tuesday evening. This will be the first campaigning Mr. Hughes has done in this city.

The principal speech of Mr. Hughes

Tuesday evening will be at the Star Casino, 107th street and Lexington avenue, which will hold 3,000 persons. He will speak first at the Astoria Schuetzen Hall in Queens, will go thence to the Star Casino and at the conclusion of his address there will be taken by motor to the Hunt's Point Casino in The Bronx. On Wednesday evening he will speak in Brooklyn.

The itinerary for Mr. Hughes' trip through the State was not completed yesterday. The tentative schedule calls for speeches on Friday in Ulster, Auburn, Geneva and Rochester. Mr. Hughes may go thence to Indiana and Ohio and return to this State early the following week.

On Thursday, November 2, it has been arranged that he shall speak at Schenectady, Troy and Albany, and on Friday at Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Yonkers, with a night meeting in Brooklyn. Mr. Hughes is to close his campaign at the Madison Square Garden meeting, Saturday evening, November 4. The county committee announced yesterday that accommodations for 13,000 had been arranged for, and there will be numerous overflow meetings in Madison Square, which will be the hub of the big Republican torchlight parade.
